This "competition" does not lead to obtaining a title. It must allow for constant quality matches, during which the players will be able to serenely take initiatives and produce a high volume of play.

The U14 Project aims to allow teams to:

- optimise the player's training by preparing them for the game of rugby XV
- to play more and at the best possible level of practice
- To detect future Swiss talents
- To evolve in a general climate of quality favourable to learning and safety, on and around the field
- To develop refereeing (refereeing in pairs) and knowledge of the rule
- To live exchanges between the coaching staff.

ORGANIZATION OF THE SEASON

PLAYERS

- From January to the end of March, club coaches must train and prepare players for 15-a-side rugby
- Evaluations will take place in during the month of March in the regions by the DTR or J+S coaches
- The specifications and test protocols are defined by the DTN & J+S (see previous years' safety courses)

REFEREES

From February to March referees must organise refereeing courses with the U14 players of their club

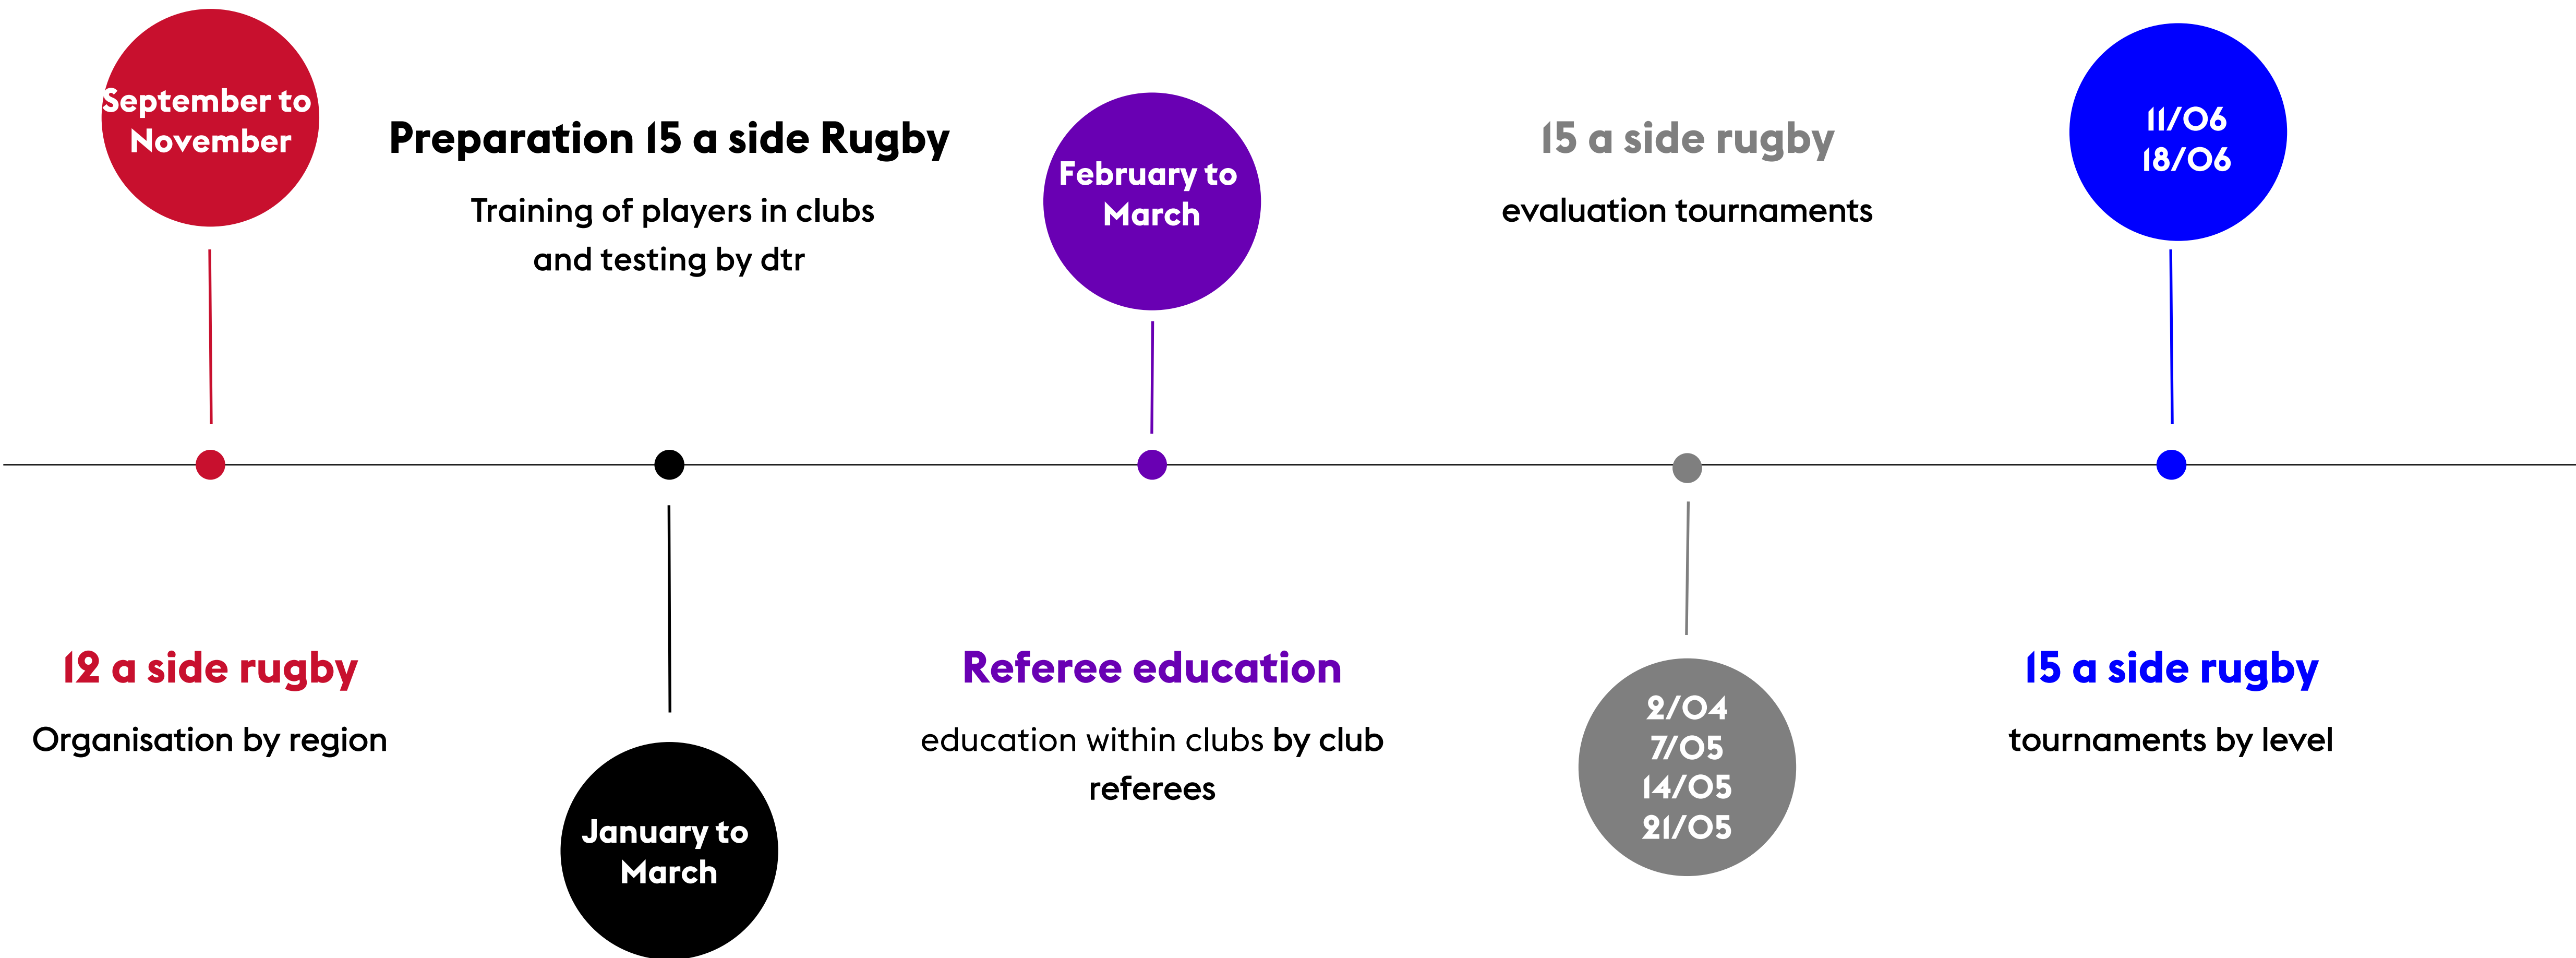

All matches should be refereed by young referees
